

Workshop Kokedama

Create your own
living work of art

What is it ?

You've probably seen them, those little plants that grow from a ball of moss. They are called kokedamas. Reconnect with the essentials with this Kokedama Workshop to get your hands back into the earth.

During the workshop, you will create a sphere of clay covered with moss, held together by macramé ties, on which your plant will grow.

An aerial and living work of art, this Japanese art is above all a manual activity that will allow you to reconnect with yourself and nature. While sharing a fun and creative moment with your colleagues.
