

The Hour of Power

A unique and engaging experience!

What is it ?

The Hour of Power raises employee awareness of the problems associated with energy poverty, and provides an innovative and sustainable solution to improve the lives of children living without electricity in developing countries.

These children will receive a solar-powered lamp supplied by the Solar Buddy association, thanks to the participants who assemble them during the activity. With these solar-powered lamps, the children will be able to study after dark, avoiding the use of expensive and accident-prone kerosene lamps.

This meaningful Team Building activity is ideal for bringing your teams together around an enriching experience, and highlighting your company's values. As well as assembling the solar lamps, participants can write a letter dedicated to the child who will receive it, delivered to his or her school by the Solar Buddy association.
